COMPASSIONATE PERSONALIZED CARE

What is the retina?

The retina is the thin sheet of nerve tissue in the back of the eye containing light-sensitive cells known as “rods” and “cones.” In the retina, light is converted into electrical signals that travel to the brain for processing, thereby creating “sight”.

Your first appointment

Your first visit with us will involve a comprehensive eye evaluation, including a dilated exam of your vitreous and retina. After carefully examining your retina, our doctors will educate you about your condition and treatment options, empowering you to make informed and confident decisions about your therapy.

A Reputation for Compassion and Advanced Therapy of Retinal Diseases

Piedmont Retina Specialists is a state-of-the-art referral center dedicated exclusively to the diagnosis and treatment of retinal disease. The doctors of Piedmont Retina Specialists are committed to providing compassionate and personalized care as well as maintaining an advanced, modern facility.

Working with your doctor

Our team will work side by side with your doctor to ensure that you have the best possible care for your retinal condition.

Understanding Your Office Visit

What is a retina specialist? A retina specialist is an ophthalmologist who has received additional fellowship training in diseases and surgery of the vitreous and retina. The doctors of Piedmont Retina Specialists commonly treat diabetic eye disease, vitreous hemorrhage, macular degeneration, retinal detachments, uveitis, macular holes, epiretinal membranes and ocular tumors.

About our Piedmont Retina Specialists

is a board certified Retina surgeon. he has been performing specialized retinal care in private practice since 2005. Dr. Sanders holds degrees from Clemson University, The Medical University of South Carolina, The University of Tennessee and the University of Iowa. After graduation, he practiced in Charlotte for four years before returning home to Greensboro to found Piedmont Retina Specialist.

Dr. Sanders' single focus is to protect patients against diseases of the retina and to provide expert therapy. He has participated in over 19 clinical trials studying the latest advances in the care of retinal disease.

Dr. Charles Richards

is a board certified Retina surgeon with degrees from Emory University and Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Dr. Richards received his ophthalmology training at Wake Forest University Eye Center and completed a retina fellowship at the University of Virginia. After four years of delivering top notch retina care as a faculty member at Wake Forest, he brings his skills and expertise to Piedmont retina. He has been involved in many clinical trials for macular degeneration and diabetic retinopathy.

Dr. Richards looks forward to continuing to provide excellent retina care here in his home community, the Piedmont Triad.

Dr. Nathan Haines

is a board certified Retina surgeon. After growing up outside of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, he attended Allegheny College. He obtained his M.D. degree from the Wake Forest University School of Medicine. Dr. Haines received his ophthalmology training at Wake Forest University Eye Center and completed a fellowship in vitreoretinal surgery at the University of Colorado.

His interests within the retina field include diabetic eye disease, retinal detachment, sutured intraocular lenses, and ocular trauma.
